PEACE RIVER HAS ANOTHER CHAMPION FOR THE OUTLET

Prof. P. A. Bovine of the University of British Columbia, who made his first trip to the Peace River last summer, has lost no time on his return to the coast in setting forth the active and potential wealth of this country.

The following editorial in the Vancouver Sun and reprinted by the Northern Argonaut, Stewart, B.C., shows that in Prof. Bovine the Peace River has a real champion of its interests and rights:

"If more evidence were needed that a great new empire is ready to be opened in the Peace River, that evidence is brought to Vancouver by Prof. Bovine, who is now at the University of British Columbia.

An undiscovered empire, says Prof. Bovine after a trip through that region. He tells of wheat yielding 30 bushels to the acre, barley yielding 65, and oats 100. He tells, too, of some farmers hauling their grain from 50 to 100 miles to market.

"If those Peace River farmers can progress under the transportation handicaps, what could they do with a railway and highway outlet to the waterway at Vancouver, whence their grain could go out to market by the shortest direct route."

"Figures have shown that the world is eating 300 million bushels of wheat every year MORE THAN the world is producing.

"The Peace River can produce a staple part of that 300 million bushels deficit. But it must have a road to the sea to dispose of it."

"The day that the Peace River day for Vancouver, because it will be Vancouver's start on hauling and marketing her grain trade and eventually her general business."

"But we will never get this outlet for the Peace by just sitting down and waiting for it. Our civic and business organizations should take hold of this and not let it go until they get the road completed."

"The Argonaut, after taking issue with the Sun over the suggested route to Vancouver, contending that the waterway is the logical outlet, being closer to the Peace River country."

"The Sun also states 'we will never get this outlet for the Peace by just sitting down and waiting for it. Our civic and business organizations should take hold of this and not let it go until they get the road completed.' Neither will Stewart be able to assist the residents of the Peace to obtain maximum results from their efforts by the same inactivity. Our civic and business organizations should take hold of this transportation problem and not let it go until they get the road to the coast."

"When completed and hauling the wheat output of the Peace, the Canadian North Eastern Railway will be the best-parade transportation line in Canada, and the Peace River wheat growers will be the most prosperous farmers in the world."

For years the people of the Peace River fought a lone hand in urging for the construction of the Outlet. It is gratifying to know that many on the coast are taking a deep interest in the much-needed transportation.

When The Tribune advocated that a Peace River exhibit be sent to Vancouver it had primarily in mind the creating of interest in the possibilities of this country and the necessity of connecting it with the west by rail. We feel the objective has been at least partially successful, judging by the many news stories which have reached Grande Prairie of late.

With keen interest aroused around the mountains in the Outlet now in the time for the people of the Peace River to rise as one man and once again urge—yes, demand—the building of the much-needed road.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ACT

THE BRITON AND FASCISM

According to dispatches from London the average Briton is not at all having Fascism, and by the large crowd that turned out and stopped a parade of Mosley's Blackshirts in the East End of London it would appear that at this distance that the masses are on the right little island are going to see to it that Fascism will not find a resting place in their country.

Living close to Europe, where Fascism is in control of the majority of the countries, the Briton knows what it means and is determined to fight its establishment on British soil every inch of the way, even if force is necessary.

Individual freedom has been dearly bought in Britain in struggles which have lasted down the centuries and the masses of the people are prepared to zealously guard those liberties. The

ON THE BANKS OF THE SMOKY

Rose bushes decked in Autumn dress,
Shaken by the wind on a fairy wand;
Trees, all yellow, as though depressed
By the Saxon's call of the Northern Land.

The stubble fields are brown and bare
Where golden grain waved in beauty grand—
And the coyote cries from its hidden lair,
And the wild duck leads its V-shaped band.

The Smoky, all rippling, flows silently by—
The waters will soon be frozen and white.
The sub-Arctic Winter is almost nigh,
But Dame Nature, she knows that all is right.

common people of Britain know that to allow Fascism to occupy the seat of control that the hands of the clock of progress and liberty would be set back hundreds of years. They know that it would mean the rule of reactionaries, who instead of cooperating with the common people in the building of a finer and better civilization, are willing to go to any length to put the civilized class in absolute power.

The British Empire has been built up on individual liberty. This is the secret of its strength and unity. It was to protect those liberties that the millions of armed troops. He can see the British people will never give up a struggle for the right to change their government when they see fit.

Looking across the Channel, in his mind's eye the Briton can see the smoke belching from the chimneys of the ammunition factories, working day and night, all steadily in preparation for national defense. The Briton knows that all these forces of destruction can and if necessary will be turned on the masses of the people of the various countries.

And, knowing this he has set himself resolutely against its establishment in Britain. If the British Empire continues to operate along democratic lines, always safeguarding individual liberty, when the present dictators, leaving behind a trail of blood and chaos, have passed into oblivion, it will be found united and prosperous and leading the world in the realization of the finer things of life, in which all will share.

EDITORIAL NOTES

From a picture appearing in the daily press, Oswald Mosley, who has been the subject of much discussion in Britain, is getting to look like Hitler more every day.

He has a black decoration on his upper lip and his speaking pose is absolutely the like that of the dictator when the latter is rousing his followers.

Unless the British people are changing more widely their posing to convince them that they should turn to Fascism.

A dispatch from London says that a city now has its first gas and bomb-proof building in Britain's preparedness campaign against the next war. We are continually hearing of the people of the world are advancing, in the face of what is happening in Europe the thoughtful man may well ask himself the question: "Are we?"

Along the Trail

By J. B. YULE

NOW YOU SEE IT AND NOW YOU DON'T!

A day or so ago the writer saw for the first time the new incarnation of Mystery Pad, which is coming into general use in schools and in many other places of business. A man in the pad and then flipped the sheet, which seemed to be made of celluloid, and the writing was instantly, I understand, very popular.

We would like to advise those who examine the mystery pad for the first time to be sure and drink nothing stronger than water before doing so.

KNOW HIS BIBLE?

One sometimes hears some rather funny sayings and statements while traveling "Along the Trail."

The other evening I was standing within hearing distance of a group of four men on Grande Prairie main stem. One man quoted from the Bible to support his statement.

What do you know about the Bible? He asked another of the party.

What do I know? I would have you understand that I have read the Bible from generations to generations, replied the other. And he was not trying to be funny either. In fact, he was in dead earnest.

WE ARE ALWAYS LEARNING SOMETHING

Over the weekend I accompanied the Mayor out to the farm of Bill Dryden, who was throwing in his way, there being twelve teams employed in the operation.

During my lifetime I have seen many threshing outfits operating from the old horse-driven type to the present modern. However, I had never seen an engine full with straw before.

Pete Wright of Cochrane was the engineer. He informed the writer that the only time he is really and supremely happy is when he is running a steam engine.

Barley was being threshed and six bushels were going through the mill in the large fan every minute. It was the opinion that this barley would be used for making purposes and would, therefore, bring a premium.

As I watched the big threshing outfit in operation I thought of the time and that not so many years ago, when grain was threshed with other primitive methods. The farm industry this last number of years has kept well ahead with other lines of business in point of machinery.

Oh, yes, I forgot to mention that

His Worship the Mayor examined the barley very closely. He then chewed some of it and remarked, "Excellent for mulling purposes." He explained that barley fit for mulling has a peculiar taste which can only be recognized by an expert. Following the Mayor's examination, a passenger said that he thought he would soak some of it to determine the mulling process.

Before we left I mentioned off by myself and made a trip through the harvest fields of these dismounded which was being followed by nine off-duty men in the company with the section of the yard and showed fight, resenting the intrusion of a stranger.

Some fifty head of white-faced cattle were being watered. Various varieties were seen in the company with the presence of a large flock of sheep, which looked as though they were all in one.

As the Mayor had an appointment, we hurried back to town, both to the hotel where our horses were being watered, where good stable hands were pouring through the spout at a great rate.

BEEES TAKE YOUNG MAN FOR DRONE

A well-known young man of Grande Prairie, who has been always a very successful gardener, was surprised that his most intimate friends did not recognize him. He was in the reception of the hotel where he was staying.

Now, this young man was none other than Jack James, and the reason that no one knew him was that he had been working in the garden, especially in the vicinity of the hive.

This is the time of the year when the bees are busy and the fact they are quite voracious, as this is the season when the drones are forced to take the air or else they are around and meet the inevitable end by being stung by the bees.

It is a short while Jack's face and head swelled up to an enormous size and did not resume normality for several days.

In discussing his experience with the writer, Jack, who had always been in the friendliest terms with the bees, said, "I guess they took me for a drone and were determined that I too should take the air, which I did as soon as I was able to walk."

He did not make any more inspections of colonies for me at this time of the year.

PUT IN WHEAT SHEAVES AND BREAD COMES OUT OF THE BLOWER

For a few minutes at last the gang that has been operating the threshing machine of Frank Hazzard of Buffalo Lakes thought the days of miracles had returned.

The strange phenomenon happened when the separator was started and the previous logic to feed the machine, instead of straw coming out of the blower, instead of straw coming out of the blower, instead of straw coming out of the blower, instead of straw coming out of the blower.

A miracle! A miracle! one called out. Another called out, "Feed it, feed it, feed it!"

The explanation of this very unusual happening is this: When the threshing machine was started, the straw was blown into the blower and then the straw was blown into the blower and then the straw was blown into the blower.

Needless to say the straw which began to pour through the blower was the straw of the blower and then the straw was blown into the blower.

A SMOKE MUFFLER NEEDED

I read that a Utah school student has invented a smoke muffler.

Now this is a very well thought out something that will totally deaden the sound of a motor car when the public are actually interested in it.

When smoking is mentioned it opens up a large field. Why some people smoke and some do not I have never been able to find out. I have known

Some people smoke and some do not I have never been able to find out. I have known

Some people smoke and some do not I have never been able to find out. I have known

Some people smoke and some do not I have never been able to find out. I have known people who smoked all their lives and lived to a ripe old age.

I recall smoking a night with a family in the country in the East. It was a very quiet night and, being tired, the family retired early. Now these people were just the finest in the world, but each one smoked a pipe that had individually in other words each was just a little different to the other.

I also recall travelling between Calgary and Winnipeg several years ago. On the sleeper service, a passenger and how that man could smoke! When he arrived at the seventh it sounded as if all the pipes on the train were being stripped. I have noticed since that smokers usually put forth a special effort on the seventh. At one time I thought that the importance attached to the smoking seven was merely an ancient superstition, but since listening to smokers for many years I have come to the conclusion that there is something in it.

These smokers, as we many kinds of pipes and cigars, are the most interesting of the smokers. These range from the deep guttural, straining kind to the one that winds up in a shrill, high-pitched note.

The handsome and popular Francis Lederer sings for the first time on the screen in "One Rainy Afternoon," the gay Parisian romantic comedy which marks the initial offering of the new Fox-Ford-Lasky Productions and begins a three-day engagement at the Capitol Theatre Monday, October 13.

Ida Lupino is cast opposite the star and Guy Herbert, Roland Young, Eric Rhoads and Joseph Cawthon head the supporting cast.

The screen play by Stephen Morehouse Avery centres around Philippe Martin-Lederer, of course—a struggling young Paris actor, ambitious to become a great star. Here he indirectly accomplishes this purpose and wins a beautiful bride into the bargain by inadvertently kissing the wrong girl in a darkened movie theatre.

"One Rainy Afternoon" is a hilarious comedy in this lush, crowded adaptation of the French comedy, "Monsieur Sans Gêne."

His victim, Monique Pelerin—Ida Lupino—is eager to hush up the whole affair, but some militant lady reformers step in with the result that Philippe is brought to trial and a great scandal ensues. The trial is a riot of fun. It turns out to be a case of love at second sight with Philippe and Monique, and Philippe emerges a very romantic figure and the idol of all Paris.

Also prominent in the cast of the comedy are Countess Lee de Malberg, Donald Meek, George Cade and Mischa Auer. "One Rainy Afternoon" was directed by Roland Y. Lee. It is released through United Artists.

EDWARD ARNOLD RELIVES DRAMA OF GENERAL SUTTER

The most dramatic era in the development of California, leading to the great gold rush of 1849, forms the backbone of Edward Arnold's "The General Sutter," which opens at the Capitol Theatre, October 22, for a limited engagement.

Edward Arnold is starred as John Sutter, who established the "empire" of New Helvetia in California. His land was discovered the gold which brought 100,000 wild-eyed treasure seekers to the Golden State within a year.

The opening scene finds Sutter in his native Bavaria. When the story follows him to America, across the continent to Oregon, to the Sand-which Islands, and finally to the place where most of the action takes place.

The frenzied lawlessness of the gold rush brings ruin to Sutter. When he spirit has reached its lowest ebb his wife gives him new courage. Dramatic events follow in every scene, and the final sequences show Sutter in Washington, D.C., carrying on a long campaign to secure redress from the government.

Heading Arnold's enormous supporting cast, Lee Tracy is seen as Perkin, Blinn Barnes as the Russian, and Katharine Alexander as the Russian. Other important roles are played by Addison Richards, Montagu Love, John Miller, Harry Carey, Robert Warwick and Mitchell Lewis. Many thousands of extra players appear in minor parts.

Director James Cruze, famous as the maker of "The Covered Wagon," has filmed the picture on a magnificent scale to fit the sweeping scope of the story. The screen play was adapted by Jack Kirkland and Walter Woods from the novel by Blaise Cendrars.

A seventeen-year-old girl is accused of killing her mother with an axe because she was too old-fashioned—a beautiful Spanish divorcee is starving herself to death in San Francisco because she has been indicted by a Nicaraguan—a dog which was accused of drawing a boy in a canal by pushing him under the water—a Spanish government destroyer shelled the batteries at Ceuta and then retired to its base so that the crew could have their afternoon steak—and a Mr. Homer P. Stanton of Cleveland, Ohio, is going to have himself tied up in the shape of a ball and roll himself to California.

A wonder a middle-aged woman of Kitham langued at the door of Calvary Hatch Mental Hospital and demanded to be admitted as a patient. She probably felt that in a world full of lunatics she might as well be with those who are certified and live in comfort.

Good Fight Card Being Prepared For Ring Fans

Fight fans are in for a treat on Friday, October 23, when a boxing program will be staged at the Grand Theatre, Sexsmith, the first preliminary to start at 8 p.m.

The main bout will be between Jack LaMare of Beaver Lodge and Young Pender of Grande Prairie, 198 and 192 pounds, respectively. This will be a ten-round bout, unless one of them gets rough and tries to finish it before the full time. These two fought at the Beaver Lodge sports this year and the decision went to LaMare, but we understand that Pender is going to try and reverse this decision this time.

Ogilvie Johnson of Grande Prairie will fight with Whitehead Tene, also of Grande Prairie, for a six-round bout. Both these boys are around 135 pounds and will give a good account of themselves.

There will be two other preliminaries, going six and four rounds. Harley Conrad will be the third man in the ring.

The price of admission will be the small sum of fifty cents. After the scrapping is over there will be a dance, the Prairie Orchestra in attendance. Prize given for best waltzers, also for apt dancing.

TREASURE HUNT FEATURES JEAN'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Pieces of Eight! Pieces of Eight! Although pirates and parrots were lacking, nevertheless exciting was the treasure hunt, searching eagerly, under and over, foliage, shrubs, etc., until the treasure vault was located, and the finder enriched beyond his wildest dreams.

So started the very pleasant birthday party of Jean Walker, in the form of a treasure hunt and like to John's Cousins, where around a camp fire, games and sing-song and a bounteous lunch were enjoyed.

Attending friends were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Murray, Jean, Mary, Viva, Warden, Erma, Warden, Jean, Wilma, Irene Walker, Jackie Walker, Sara, Mary, Doris, and Miss Hurd. G. Johns, Dorothy McMillan, Bob Turner, Bob Walker, Bob Shaw, heavy on the heels, Graham Howard, Buster Brown, Ted Mason, Fred Mason, Tom Mason and W. Hall.

SHOWER FOR MISS WILSON

A number of friends of the bride of the near future, Miss Ada Wilson, held a miscellaneous shower for her on Wednesday evening, at Kirtland's Hall. Miss Wilson was the recipient of many lovely and useful presents, a short dance was held afterwards, all having a very enjoyable time.

LITTLE SMOKY

LITTLE SMOKY, Oct. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gilmour and family of Fish Creek spent a night at the Gilmour home this week as they were on their way to High Prairie. Fish Creek is at least fifty miles from the nearest town, so a trip to town must be something of an event.

Glen Carpenter paid a brief visit to his home this week. Living as he does all alone at his camp across the river, the weekly business on Mr. Walters, the Valleyview mill man, is a real boon to him.

A keen disappointment was experienced by the Ray family when some relatives who were motorists, turned back at Athabasca after being told that it would take four horses to pull their car alone by Slave Lake and that the charge for crossing the port of the lake for such was exorbitant. This is only one experience of this kind that we have heard of, and wonder how many tourists turn back in the summer.

A community thanksgiving service will be held in the school on Sunday, when the prayer service will be read by Mrs. Plummer.

Once upon a time I thought I was poor. I was such a strong, muscular, virile. Then I came up to live in Peace River.

Where life was most awfully prim, this. Then we had absolutely nothing at all. Except what our garden plot yielded. I'll tell you now, folks, poverty. A most terrible hummer, indeed.

And for a long time we bent under the yoke. And still we would wonder why. We had never been born to see such hard things.

What? Oh, what? Oh, what? And then a wonderful thing came to pass. A chance came into our lives. When Social Credit came to us. We were like bees from the bee hives.

They and happy the whole day long. Gathering swarms of bees home. For thanks to the wonderful heaven-sent leader.

We now had plans of money. But nothing more than our old rights, only our own lawful share. Of the wealth of the province we were living in.

Which is known everywhere. For the word is watching our every move. Its eyes are focused on us. And if Social Credit could ever fail. I'll show you here, and on a case of Social Credit.

Little Smoky, October 2, 1936. Mrs. Carpenter.

SPIRIT RIVER NEWS

CHICKEN SUPPER TIME IS HERE

SPIRIT RIVER, Oct. 13.—Amongst the most keenly anticipated annual events are the chicken suppers provided by the ladies of the two churches here, and last Saturday, October 10, saw the first of these, put on by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church, go through with most gratifying success. These occasions when delicious, tasty and well-prepared food should do great credit to the organization, and the ladies' committee and executive and committee members and their success means much more than the enriching of the treasury.

The second of these affairs is set for Monday, October 20, when the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Anglican Church plan to hold their annual fowl supper in the Masonic Hall.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Sunday, October 18, will be another of those occasions of fraternal fellowship when the congregations of the United Church and St. Andrew's (Anglican) will meet in the United Church at 7:30 a.m. for Thanksgiving services. The minister of both churches uniting in the enjoyment and inspiration of a common worship and communion.

On the following Sunday, October 25, a similar service will be held in St. Andrew's Anglican church. It is hoped that all who possibly can will be present at one or both of these united services of thanksgiving.

SMALL-SIZED WHIRLWIND. CARRIES LARGE MACHINE. SHED ONE HUNDRED FEET.

Joseph Tene, farming west of Sexsmith, who was in Grande Prairie on Friday, informed The Tribune that a machine shed on his son Fred's farm, 30000 feet, on Tuesday of a week ago was lifted and carried about one hundred feet by a small-sized whirlwind.

The machine was so strong and continuous was the wind that it finally broke the building up into pieces. The machine was not damaged.

On the same day it was necessary to stop threshing owing to the fact that the wind blew off the drive belt.

Mr. Tene said the wind and the whirlwind blew off the drive belt, and the main belt of one of the springs.

Good Photographs Are Worth Taking Care Of

Pictures like this you don't want to lose. The place for them is in an album.

POSSESSING the picture, turning it to repeatedly and organizing your pictures into a collection that you may be proud to show.

Each print is proof of your handiwork with a camera, plus a graphic reminder of some incident that thrilled you, occasion that you enjoyed, or place that you visited, plus an expression of what you saw in the subject at the time. Thus a picture is more than a mere record.

To be fully enjoyed, however, pictures must be treated like the valuable possessions that they really are. Shaded or broken prints, set in boxes and drawers, can hardly be a source of pride to their owner.

They deserve proper care. Are your photographs a reproach to you in this respect? Here comes a dare!

With your complete lot of pictures before you, classify them by topics or dates and put them into an album. Put them into an album that's the remedy. There they will be safe from such sufferings as broken edges, curled corners, thumb marks and other afflictions which rage among prints that do not get proper care. Then you'll have a collection of pictures that you can find them without delay—and give your friends a peek now and then without apology.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.

SOME CROPS

Mervyn Simons threshed a 40-acre field of oats that yielded 420 bushels. Some yield, and the Kitchik out did the job.

That Gittel, threshing on his farm, had the best yield of Cornet in the district, 70 bushels to the acre, on a 150-acre field. Hugh Allen took the honors with a field of Reward, 70 bushels.

Other fields of wheat yielding 40 bushels and over are reported by Jack Heikel, Fred Dolphin, Arthur Lange, Art Walton, Dave Cockburn, Dave Mackintosh, F. G. Fawcett, and others.

Mr. Dubinsky of Stony Plain is a good fowling man.

GOOD FLOW OF WATER STRUCK ON HUGH ALLEN FARM.

Mr. Hugh Allen of Grande Prairie, drilling on the farm of Hugh W. Allen, struck a good flow of water at 100 feet. The water coming right up to the top and appears to be of good quality.

Interviewed by your correspondent, Mr. Sheridan said he experienced little difficulty in drilling, and when asked if the well was located by water divider he replied, with evident disapproval, that the art of water divining is general and water without a doubt that I wouldn't construe as complimentary.

Anyway, congratulations, Mr. Sheridan, on the success you had in the well and the same to Mr. Allen, who is very pleased with his new source of water supply.

PLEASED WITH CROPS. Lewis Heikel, pioneer settler of Stony Plain, to know those who have been in the district, prominent in the district, Mr. Heikel is 75 years young, although he has retired from actual farm work, he is just as spry as ever. He seemed very pleased with the crops in the district and was quite interested in the threshing operations on his son's farm, where his crop was being safe home.

Ray Roberts of Sexsmith visited here Saturday, superintending the shipping of food hogs. Among those who visited was Hugh Allen, with a consignment of 32 Yorks.

Paul Robinson, of his threshing outfit in Wembley, where he is at present threshing for Eric Anderson.

Now that the busy season is about over, we intend to try and send in a few news items, and ask a cooperator of all to help by giving us the news. Please let us know and we will do the rest. Also don't forget that if your subscription has expired or if you desire to join the rapidly expanding list of Tribune readers, the scribbles will take your subscriptions and send them in. Thank you.

HARD ON TRUCK. Jack Hipp, Wembley truck driver, who is driving to the local elevator, is driving a truck that he will be hard on. The truck is a 1935 model, and it is a 1935 model. The truck is a 1935 model, and it is a 1935 model.
